James Ray Will Fight Extradition To U.S.

More Rockets Hit Saigon

Accused Slayer Of King Denied Bail By Court

SAIGON (AP) — The civilian casualty toll from 22 days of Viet Cong rocket and mortar attacks on Saigon soared past the 500 mark today with another shelling on the densely populated central districts of the capital.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, outgoing commander of U.S. troops in Vietnam, told a farewell news conference: "It's virtually impossible to stop this indiscriminate firing of rockets."

At least 15 of the 100-pound, Russian-made rockets tore into the city early today in the Viet Cong's terror campaign, setting several houses afire. Ten Vietnamese civilians were killed and 33 wounded.

Since the start of the Viet Cong's May 5 "peace talks" offensive against Saigon, 109 civilians have been killed and 413 wounded from enemy shelling alone, based on an unofficial tabulation of reports of the South Vietnamese military headquarters and the U.S. mission.

South Vietnamese military headquarters announced that over-all, 433 civilians have been killed and 3,660 wounded in the last 37 days from both enemy rocket and mortar attacks and street fighting in the capital military district that includes Saigon and surrounding Gia Dinh Province. Headquarters said 16,269 houses were set afire and destroyed or damaged.

It was considered reasonable assumption that most of the property destruction was caused by the massive fire power of allied troops. They used bombers, artillery, tanks and helicopter gunships to root out Viet Cong guerrillas in abandoned houses.

The U.S. mission reported that street fighting and shelling in the capital military district since May 5 have left 161,000 persons homeless.

On the military side, government headquarters reported that allied troops have killed 5,316 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops in and around Saigon since the enemy command launched its May 5 attacks. Another 433 enemy and 1,750 weapons were reported captured.

South Vietnamese losses were put at 261 killed, 1,032 wounded and 40 missing for the same period. A breakdown on U.S. and other allied casualties was not immediately available.

Westmoreland said that "to stop the indiscriminate firing of a few mortar rounds, a few rocket rounds, in consideration of the wide open and very chopped up and difficult country around Saigon, is almost an impossibility."

LONDON (AP) — James Earl Ray made a two-minute appearance in Bow Street Court today and indicated he would fight the U.S. government's attempt to seek his extradition in connection with the charge that he killed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

London's chief magistrate ordered Ray held without bail for another court appearance on June 18.

There was no mention during the brief preliminary hearing of extradition. But Ray asked the court to appoint an attorney for him, and this was taken as an indication that he would fight being returned to America.

American legal officials said they were going ahead with the extradition process and hoped to return Ray to the United States "very soon."

The 40-year-old escaped convict, who had been on the run since the Negro civil rights leader was killed April 4 in Memphis, Tenn., was arraigned under the alias of Ramon George Sneyd and was charged with carrying a false passport and a loaded revolver without a license.

A heavy police escort brought Ray secretly to the court three hours before the preliminary hearing was to begin. A crowd of about 300 laid siege to the courtroom later, and everyone entering it was searched for weapons.

Ray had been under heavy guard since his arrest Saturday. Ray's dark hair was flecked with gray at the temples, and his face was tanned.

A government prosecutor asked that Ray be held in custody, and the judge granted Ray's application request that the court appoint a lawyer for him. Then he was taken away by a large force of plainclothesmen and uniformed police.

Ray had been in Canada, Portugal and Britain before the two-month hunt ended with his arrest at London airport. Informal sources gave credence to reports that he had been hiding out in London since mid-May.

One report was that when picked up he was bound for Brussels, hoping to contact recruiters for mercenary forces in Africa.

Ray is wanted on a Tennessee charge of murder, a federal charge of conspiring to deny King his civil rights, and a Missouri charge that he escaped from prison there on April 23, 1967.

U.S. Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred M. Vinson Jr. flew to London and saw Ray in his cell Sunday, but in Washington Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said Ray had made no statement to Vinson.

Clark said he could not estimate how soon Ray might be returned to the United States. It is possible, he said, that Ray might waive extradition or that he might be deported.

If extradition is necessary, legal sources in London said, the Bow Street Court would require material evidence showing a case against Ray. The procedure normally would take two or three weeks, but if Ray fought the case, it could take much longer.

Scotland Yard said Ray was apprehended as he was about to board a plane for Brussels and was found to be carrying a loaded revolver.

Under Constant Watch He was arrested under the name of Ramon George Sneyd, the name on his Canadian passport, but the Justice Department in Washington said the man definitely was Ray.

He was held in an 8-by-10-foot cell under constant watch by two Scotland Yard men at Cannon Row police station, about 200 yards from the Houses of Parliament. Newsmen were kept out of the station by two tall London bobbies at the gate.

Gradually, the story began to come out of where Ray was during the manhunt that followed the slaying of the Negro civil rights leader and Nobel prize winner who had gone to Memphis in support of 1,300 striking

Ethel And Jackie Among Those Who Pray

60,000 Visit Grave Of Kennedy On Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — In life, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy went where the crowds were. Now his last campaign is done and they come to him, to stand for a moment before a newly-sodded grave on a grassy slope of Arlington National Cemetery.

Nearly 60,000 people made that pilgrimage Sunday, amid steamy heat and afternoon rain.

Ethel Kennedy, expecting her 11th child, came to kneel at the foot of her husband's grave.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy came with her two children, to pray at the grave of her assassinated husband, then to walk the few steps to the resting place of her assassinated brother-in-law.

Tourists with cameras came, and mourners with flowers. They stood six abreast and waited in a burning June sun.

And when they had climbed the cemetery hill, many did not know where to look for the grave. They had to ask the soldiers who stood guard there.

Small Cross Marker For only a small, white cross marks the grave of the New York senator, shot down by an assassin in Los Angeles early Wednesday as he celebrated a California primary victory in his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The walkway leading toward Robert's grave goes to that of John Kennedy, assassinated in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963. And the crowds were drawn automatically to its everburning flame.

The new grave is outside the low hedge which borders the memorial to the slain President and is shielded by the broad, low branches of a magnolia tree.

The graves of the brothers who lived in politics and died in gunfire are a scant 50 feet apart.

A family spokesman said Robert's gravesite is temporary but the permanent burial place will be in the same general area.

A simple memorial will be designed later.

From dawn until dusk Sunday

Friends Urge Edward To Quit Political Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — Still so young to have come so far, to have grieved so much, Edward M. Kennedy stands alone—the last of the Kennedy brothers.

Six years in which triumph and tragedy have followed one another in terribly swift succession have thrust him at 36 into leadership of a feebled political family.

A family with a quest that by its logic he must take up.

His brother John was a senator from Massachusetts when he expressed it:

"Just as I went into politics because Joe died, if anything happened to me tomorrow, my brother, Bobby, would run for my seat in the Senate and if Bobby died, Teddy would take over for him."

So it was that while many still mourned Robert, eyes and thoughts turned to Edward.

While the nation watched him rise to his new role—comforting the widow, delivering a moving tribute to his brother, greeting the crowds that gathered along the route of the funeral train—many wondered when and how he would take up the quest.

But in New Orleans Sunday, Archbishop Philip M. Hannan, who presided at graveside ceremonies for Robert, said in an interview that close friends of the Kennedy family are urging Edward to withdraw from political life.

The prelate told the New Orleans Times-Picayune that one consideration is that Edward is the only adult son in a large family which now has many fatherless children.

But he added that he could not predict what the last Kennedy brother's decision will be.

"Teddy now has an assuredness and a sense of mission that he could not have had before the tragedies," Archbishop Hannan said.

Young Teddy Kennedy, the handsome youth in a hurry to join his brothers in Washington, is gone forever.

It was March 1962. Teddy had just turned 30, minimum age for U.S. senators. The youngest of the three surviving sons of financier Joseph P. Kennedy announced his Senate candidacy.

"If your name was simply Edward Moore," his primary election opponent taunted, "instead of Edward Moore Kennedy, your candidacy would be a joke."

But his name was Kennedy. And he had a glorious smile and an easy manner that reinforced the magic of his name and made victory seem easy.

"The best politician in the family," brother John called him.

When Congress convened in January 1963, the Kennedy brothers could claim unprecedented achievement in American politics.

John was President, Robert was attorney general, Edward was a senator.

Before Robert's death, Edward was mentioned as a potential vice presidential nominee. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey won the Democratic presidential nomination, and now it is being mentioned more frequently.

people came. An evening cloud-burst drove many to shelter, but many others ignored the rain to continue their procession past the grave.

It was the day President Johnson had proclaimed a national day of mourning for the 42-year-old senator who challenged him for the White House.

Johnson and his wife joined in a private religious service conducted by evangelist Billy Graham at the White House.

Leave Flowers A massive array of flowers sent to the cemetery Saturday formed an arc on the hillside above the gravesite.

Singer Andy Williams drove the widow to the cemetery. Roosevelt Grier, the giant professional football player, and former Olympic decathlete champion Rafer Johnson were with them.

Survey Finds HHH Sure Demo Choice

By The Associated Press Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey stands to inherit such a large share of the national convention delegates left unattached by the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy that his nomination for the presidency seems assured, The New York Times said today.

This, the Washington story said, was the major conclusion of a survey of the effect of the Democratic party's choice of a nominee conducted by correspondents of the Times over the weekend.

The story also said in part: The state-by-state inquiry indicated that more than 400 delegates who had been pledged or were leaning toward the New York senator or available to his cause are now expected to support Humphrey at the Chicago convention, which starts Aug. 26.

McCarthy Counts 75 Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, the only remaining contender in the field, has the allegiance of only about 75 delegates who had previously been considered in the Kennedy camp.

The addition of more than 400 delegates to his existing convention strength would give Humphrey more than 1,600 delegates, by a generally conservative count. The majority needed for nomination is 1,312. Comparable estimates of McCarthy's delegate strength, not including any results from New York, were less than 450.

This left about 600 delegates listed as undecided.

Praise For Kennedy On the Republican side, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller praised Kennedy today in the first public speech by a presidential candidate since the senator's death last Thursday.

Rockefeller, under Secret Service guard, said in prepared remarks at an Allegheny College commencement in Meadville, Pa., that Kennedy was "someone special to young people" who seek new leadership.

Political activity, its fanfare muted by Kennedy's assassination, resumes Tuesday with these developments:

—Interest in the Illinois primary centers on a four-way race for the GOP gubernatorial nomination between Cook County chairman Richard B. Ogilvie, Peoria industrialist John Henry Altorfer, former Gov. William

Los Angeles Officials Seeking Mystery Girl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With Sirhan Bishara Sirhan behind bars, top prosecutors are meeting daily in hopes of closing holes in Los Angeles County Superior Court Case No. A233421.

That case contains the murder charge against the 24-year-old Jordanian immigrant accused of slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sirhan is to enter a plea to the charge June 28.

Although Sirhan was arrested at the scene of the fatal shooting early Wednesday, and identified by several witnesses as the New York senator's assailant, the case presents unanswered questions.

Not the least of them is whether there was a conspiracy behind the slaying.

Police haven't been able to produce the dark-haired "girl in the polka-dot dress." Sandy Serrano, 20, a Youth for Kennedy worker, reported seeing the girl run from the Ambassador Hotel after the shooting and say, "We shot him."

Three young women, the latest a 19-year-old belly dancer, have claimed to be the girl in the polka-dot dress, all saying Miss Serrano misunderstood their words as they ran from the hotel. But Miss Serrano says none is the girl she saw.

"You've got to be color-blind to think that's the girl," Miss Serrano said of the belly dancer, Kathy Fulmer, who had told police she was wearing a polka-dot scarf and a blonde wig the night of the murder.

Under Constant Watch He was arrested under the name of Ramon George Sneyd, the name on his Canadian passport, but the Justice Department in Washington said the man definitely was Ray.

French People Solve U.S. Travel Problem

By JAMES E. TRETHEWEY
Of Panax Newspapers

Nothing we've been reading since our return home from an abbreviated tour of Europe has changed our belief that both the de Gaulle regime and the French economy are in serious trouble.

That also was the opinion of businessmen and workers we talked to in Paris, which was seething with unrest during our stay there before cutting our tour short and flying home on the first available airliner.

Consensus among persons we interviewed was that de Gaulle is "just a stubborn old man." His speech to the nation late in May was described by one Parisian as "seven minutes of nothingness."

But everyone we spoke to also feared a Communist party takeover of the government. Some made it plain they hoped for de Gaulle's resignation and his replacement by a stronger leader—one who could deal effectively with the current "revolution."

Commune Factor

It's a moot question whether de Gaulle's forces can take advantage of the anti-Communist feeling or whether the "manifestations" of the general strike recalled by the General Confederation of Labor (CGT)—Confederation Generale du Travail will have the greater effect in the June elections in France.

Not quite so noticeable, but just as important — perhaps even more so — is the government's fiscal situation.

A wage increase to millions of workers — even though they obviously need it — will lead to further inflation of the franc. This, coupled with removal of tariff barriers when terms of the Common Market agreement go into effect July 1, seems certain to create difficulties which will cause additional problems.

Paris and other French cities already have lost millions in revenue because of the national labor crisis. In addition to wages, income from travelers disappeared when virtually all commercial establishments were closed by the general strike.

The maitre d'hotel at the Hotel du Louvre explained some of the loss this way: "May is always our big month. We have many home, appliance and auto expositions which bring a lot of people here, and the dining room is usually overflowing. You can see (waving his arms about) the result of the greve (strike) about you."

Besides Mrs. Trethewey and me, there were only three other persons eating dinner there that evening.

Many of the tourists returning with us on the plane had spent hundreds of dollars — some even thousands — in purchasing souvenirs of their European trips. The sale of souvenirs alone is a sizeable item in the French economy.

One person who had been at Lourdes, that famous shrine city, told us that the more than 30 hotels and boarding houses which accommodate pilgrims there were emptying fast. Later we learned that pilgrimages which would have taken many thousands of persons to Lourdes were cancelled.

The departure of thousands of tourists sliced a lot of revenue from France's economy. Even if the situation returns to normal before the August holiday, the travel business in that country has been dealt a severe blow for 1968.

The French people, themselves, probably have done more than President Johnson to persuade Americans to curtail foreign travel this year.

Fleming Tells Grads Challenge Of Divided World

HOUGHTON — Areas of social challenge were proposed to graduates of Michigan Tech by Dr. Robben W. Fleming, president of the University of Michigan.

In his commencement address Dr. Fleming emphasized that engineers also are a functioning part of human and social institutions. The challenges that he proposed are in the areas of undeveloped nations, the "have-nots" within our own borders and the field of influencing public policy.

More than 450 degrees from the bachelor of science to the doctorate were conferred during the ceremony in Dea Stadium.

"Our world is divided by a gap between the rich and the poor nations—a division which seems to be assuming more nearly the proportions of an abyss rather than a gap," Dr. Fleming said.

He cited the study of economic condition of 11 southeast Asian countries by Gunnar Myrdal, the Swedish economist. "Basically, Myrdal says that a nation's development can come only from the efforts of its own people. But this does not mean that other nations, more prosperous, can turn their backs upon the underdeveloped."

He pointed out that the greatest enemy which faces the world today is hunger.

No Hanna Dock

Hanna Mining Co. of Cleveland announced last week that it had reached an agreement with the Chicago & North Western Railway on a rate for hauling pelletized iron ore from its Groveland Mine in Dickinson County to the Port of Escanaba.

The agreement follows a lot of sparring between the carrier and the mining firm, with the local public on the sidelines watching an economic struggle of titans.

The North Western is associated with the origins of Escanaba, it has been hauling iron ore to the Port of Escanaba for more than a century, first from the Marquette Range and eventually from all three ranges of the Upper Peninsula. The railroad had a division point in Escanaba and was the largest employer in the city for many years. With reduction in rail traffic, and especially in passenger business, the North Western has retrenched at Escanaba, but it has continued and even expanded its operations in the iron ore haul, with which it has operated a pooled service with the Milwaukee Road since 1935.

The North Western discontinued its ore haul to Lake Superior at Ashland, Wis., from the Gogebic Range (Ironwood) in the fading years of that range, sent the ore through Escanaba. Current annual volume handled through Escanaba is more than 6 million tons a year of all kinds of ore. Natural ores are declining sharply in volume and pelletized iron from low grade ores which have been beneficiated is increasing.

The Marquette Range, with Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. and its partners leading the way in spectacular pioneering which has saved the iron industry there, has the modern Humboldt, Republic and Empire mine plants and is also pelletizing ore mined underground in the Mather Mine. A large volume of the pelletized ore moves through the Port of Escanaba and not Marquette, which is nearer to its origin, because CCI's partners are located at the foot of Lake Michigan and the Escanaba route is the shortest route to the steel mills there. It avoids the long reach across Superior to the Sault and across Huron to Lake Michigan. (Escanaba is the only ore shipping port on Lake Michigan.)

Hanna has been the great enterprise on the Menominee Iron Range as OCI has been on the Marquette Range. Its Groveland Mine near Randville returned inquiry to an abandoned shaft mine as an open pit operation with beneficiation and pelletizing, as OCI did in creating the surface Empire Mine at the site of the old Isabella shaft mine. Hanna's exploration and development project at Randville was extensive and costly and included operation of a pilot plant there before construction of the big plant, which can now turn out 2.1 million tons of pellets a year.

Transportation costs are as crucial as mining costs to iron industry profits. Hanna made long range plans for transportation of its Groveland ore as well as for making it into a saleable product. In the 1960s it optioned for purchase the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad, which runs from Escanaba to Channing and passes within 13 miles of the Groveland Mine. It bought the E&LS in 1962.

When the C&NW last year announced it would build a new Escanaba Ore Terminal to replace its present dock and create a storage yard and handling facilities, Hanna, which supplies half the volume of C&NW's Escanaba dock traffic, said it might build its own dock and handle its Groveland ore over the E&LS.

The North Western had second thoughts about its project with such a big part of it traffic uncertain, but it later announced that it was going ahead with its terminal in Escanaba and meanwhile it negotiated with Hanna on ore haul rate revision. Hanna agreed last week and put its own ore railroad and dock plans on the shelf. It said that the new North Western rate was nearly 20 per cent cheaper and would save it $400,000 a year.

A Hanna spokesman said that its engineering showed that it could undercut the C&NW rate even so, but that there were other factors, including the success of the City or Escanaba's financing of the North Western terminal with $16 million in industrial revenue bonds. The agreement does not create complete happiness because some Escanabans had hoped for two new ore docks and will now get only one, and some mourned the tax loss and declared that competition is good for the area.

The agreement, in the large view, appears to serve the public interest well and also those of the principals. It assures a large modern ore terminal with enough traffic to make it profitable. It sets up the C&NW in ore storage and shipping so that it is better equipped to draw larger volumes to the Port of Escanaba. The North Western lost $2.2 million in 1967 on its railroading. If its U. P. operations can be made more profitable there's more hope of keeping its passenger trains operating north of Green Bay, Wis. The Escanaba-Ishpeming segment already is under the auditor's microscope.

How About Another Transplant?

Hanna Rail Land Swaps Proposed

Proposed exchanges of state-owned lands in the Upper Peninsula with the U. S. Forest Service and with the Hanna Mining Co. are among the items on the agenda for the June meeting of the Michigan Conservation Commission on Thursday and Friday at Haven Hill near Pontiac.

The Forest Service is offering to exchange 1,019 acres of federally-owned land in Alger and Luce Counties for 1,707 acres of state land in Alger and Schoolcraft Counties.

Hanna is offering to trade 40 acres of prime recreation land in the Lake Superior State Forest in Chippewa County for 15.65 acres in the Ford River State Forest in Dickinson County for a spur line railroad location.

The first exchange would consolidate Forest Service ownership within areas suitable for national forest multiple use management, while the state would receive very desirable water frontage on Lake Superior that is adaptable for conservation uses and would consolidate the state's ownership.

Two Locations
 The federal property involves two separate locations — a 44.90-acre parcel in Luce County bounded on three sides by state forest land with 1,505 feet of frontage on Lake Superior for the northern boundary and 974.25 acres in Alger County in one block adjoining state ownership on the east and south sides with 10,776 feet of frontage on Lake Superior for the northern boundary.

Hanna Proposal
 In exchange, the Conservation Department would give the Forest Service several scattered

Suspended

Hanna Mining Co. on Thursday announced at Cleveland that it had made an agreement with the Chicago & North Western Railway on a rate for hauling iron ore pellets from its Groveland Mine at Randville, Dickinson County, to the Port of Escanaba.

During negotiations between Hanna and the railroad, Hanna had been engineering studies on development of its own railroad, the Escanaba & Lake Superior, for movement of Groveland pellets to Escanaba. The proposed spur line from Groveland to the E&LS to the north would cross state forest lands, necessitating the land exchange proposed here.

What the ore haul rate agreement will do with the spur line project is not clear, but a spokesman in Cleveland said Thursday that "The Hanna Co. has now suspended these plans."

segment of an anticipated series of exchanges, each of which would offer land within established conservation project boundaries in return for equal-value portions of the spur line. The description applied for by Hanna is a portion of various properties in Alger and Schoolcraft counties, including several descriptions with water frontage on streams and one with frontage on an inland lake.

The Hanna proposal is the first parcels designed to connect the Groveland Mine near Randville in Dickinson County with the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad line crossing in northern Dickinson County and extending to the company's proposed iron ore dock at Escanaba. The entire route from the existing railroad to the Groveland Mine ownership of Hanna extends 12 and a half miles across the boundaries of the Ford River State Forest.

Under the first segment of the exchange series, the Conservation Department would receive a 40-acre tract completely surrounded by extensive state ownership and adjoining the Lake Superior Natural Area in the Lake Superior Forest. It is the only private ownership on an eight-mile stretch of the South Branch of the Betsey River, which traverses this tract for almost a half mile.

A condition of the exchange is that title shall revert to the state upon abandonment of the parcels for railroad purposes. The commission also will consider a proposed exchange of 200 acres of land in Menominee County owned by Eugene Peterson of Carney for 120 acres of state land in the same county. Included in the Peterson land is 40 acres that are desirable for habitat for ducks and geese. The state lands would provide excellent blocking in of the applicant's holdings for better timber management, the department said.

The department is recommending that the commission approve the sale of tax-reverted state-owned lands in 11 Upper Peninsula counties in early August. The bulk of them are slated lots in cities, villages and township subdivisions. A total of 784 sale units will be offered with total minimum bids of $72,730.

Also on the commission agenda are recommendations that watercraft controls be imposed on Camp 7 Lake in Garden Township in Delta County and on Colwell Lake in Inwood Township, Schoolcraft County. The restrictions would prohibit water skiing and the operation of any motorboat on those waters at high speed between the hours of 6:30 p. m., and 10 a. m.

Oswald: "There are lots of bridge plays that come up all the time in one form or another. These are sometimes called 'book' plays because they either have been or should have been discussed in a book some time or other."

Jim: "One of these plays occurs when a defender apparently wastes a high card. Sometimes he does this in order to keep out of the lead, on other occasions to give the declarer entry problems."

Oswald: "Let's look at a simple case of this. South has a normal opening no-trump, and in a duplicate game the chances are that every South player would open one no-trump and play the hand right there against a spade opening. The play would start out in fairly standard fashion. South should win the first spade, since he does not want to give the defense time to start on another suit. Then South should lead his three of clubs. If West is not alert, West will play the five and dummy's nine will force East's king."

Jim: "From then on, there will be no way for the defense to keep declarer from making four club tricks in addition to his own top cards. He will make two no-trump unless the defense fouls up its discarding and lets him steal a ninth trick somewhere."

Oswald: "If West is alert, he will see that his queen of clubs isn't going to be worth anything if left in his hand. True, if East (started with jack-eight-deuce of clubs, South could rise with dummy's ace of clubs and finesse successfully against the jack, but then South would have no way to get back to dummy for the last two clubs."

Jim: "If West does play the queen and South rises with dummy's ace, South will lose his contract. His correct play is to let the queen hold and let East's king make the next club trick, whereupon South will make one no-trump, but not the overtrick."

Dixie Digger O'Dell Tops The Russians

Dear Ann Landers: I see by the wire services that a mortician in Georgia has gone in for drive-in display windows for those who want to view a deceased friend or relative but are too busy to park their cars and come inside.

The mortician is constructing five windows six feet long—just the right size for an open coffin. The display will face a driveway at the side of the funeral home which is located on a busy street. The deceased will be lying in a lighted window, slightly tilted to make viewing easier.

The idea says people seem to like it. According to him, folks are in a hurry these days and the drive-in display means they can come any hour of the day or night and they don't have to get dressed in their good clothes.

I would appreciate your comments.—CONCERNED
 Dear Concerned: The Russians have been on display under glass for years. "Have you seen the cold-cut yet?" is a question asked of all American tourists who visit Moscow.

In Russia, however, you must stand in line, sometimes for several hours. Digger O'Dell from Dixie seems to have come up with the ultimate in convenience. Or, as they say in Georgia—"Man, that's really livin'!"

Dear Ann Landers: Dad is away a lot and Mom has a hard job making us toe the line because Dad is the tough one in the family. All three of us kids are taller than Mom—even my brother who is 14. My 16-year-old brother is 6'1" and I am 17 and 6'2".

A few months ago Mom and us kids were watching the hockey game on TV. When the referee fined one of the players for mouthing off, Mom said, "That's a great idea. I think I'll do it with you kids." The fines ranged from 15 to 50 cents depending on the infraction. Mom kept track and at the end of the week she deducted the fines from our allowance. After a month we

UNION VOTING
 As a former resident of Escanaba, and with two daughters and a niece affected by the P&H strike, I would like to comment on several of the past communications on the matter.

The key argument, as I see it, is the method of voting used. In the first two elections, no voting booth was used, and the final vote, the one which really counted, was a standing vote. This type of voting may be all right in small unimportant elections, but has no place in an important vote of this nature. One writer called it a vote of acclamation, which is a high sounding word, but which covers up a communistic method of voting. Our forefathers made provisions for voting with a secret ballot for very wise reasons.

I also agree that the union president owes the public an explanation of why a secret ballot wasn't taken on the last vote. The answer surely can't be that a strike vote was previously taken, because there were changes in the contract after the previous vote to warrant another secret ballot, preferably by voting machine. I think a law this country needs very badly is one prohibiting unions from going on strike until a supervised secret ballot held after final negotiations indicating the majority actually want a strike. Very few union men would vote against

Winter Shipping Cost On Seaway Will Be Studied

CHICAGO (AP) — The Army Corps of Engineers plans to study whether the benefits of extending shipping operations on the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Waterway into the winter would justify its costs.

The study results from a one-day hearing here, in which port officials, politicians and shippers urged that the water lanes be kept open for at least part of the winter.

Col. James T. White, district engineer at Detroit who presided, said the corps will study the problem, including the question of whether the benefits would justify whatever the costs might be.

Shipping on the lakes and the St. Lawrence Seaway usually is halted by ice from early December to about the middle of April.

E.H. Thiele, vice president of the Cleveland Stevedoring Co. and a retired rear admiral of the Coast Guard, proposed a four-point program to extend the shipping season.

He suggested the Seaway could be kept open until February by: employing ice-breaking vessels, using infrared rays to prevent freezing of locks, placing water agitators above and below the locks and installing devices to prevent ice from building up in channels.

Robert D. Conner, an engineer with the New York State Power Authority, cautioned any ice-clearing action that might damage power facilities in the St. Lawrence River.

Witnesses predicted that if the season were lengthened by 30 days, the increase in shipping volume would jump between 12.5 and 20 per cent.

David Clark of the Detroit-Wayne County Port Commission said a longer season would boost foreign trade.

A statement sent by Rep. John Blatnik, D-Mich., said "keeping the seaway open for just one additional month would result in saving some $12 million in payments for unemployment benefits throughout Great Lakes ports."

Some witnesses theorized it would be simpler to continue shipping into December rather than to open the season earlier. Thiele noted that dangers increased when ice begins to break and move at winter's end.

Ahlborn Named Polio Field Man

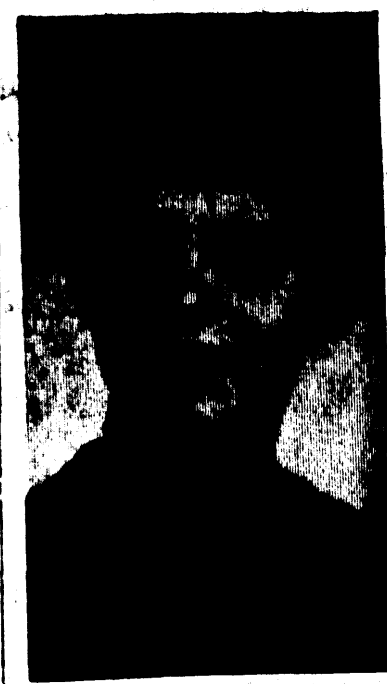

Wallace L. Ahlborn has been appointed field representative for the National Foundation-March of Dimes in Northern Michigan to work with volunteer members of the 43 National Foundation chapters in Northern Michigan and will assist them in the expansion of the voluntary health organization's total medical care program for victims of birth defects. He will help inform the public of the research and professional education programs supported by The National Foundation.

In addition, Mr. Ahlborn will work with volunteers in conducting the annual March of Dimes in January to finance these national and local programs.

A native of Hammond, Ind., Ahlborn for a number of years was a radio news director in Munising and Escanaba, and also worked as a reporter on the Munising News.

He had worked for several years as a volunteer for the March of Dimes and is also active in Rotary and Lions clubs. A veteran of the U. S. Air Force, Ahlborn is married to the former Jane D. Webber of Munising and has four children.

The Northern Michigan office of the Foundation is at 1308 McKay Tower, Campus Square in Grand Rapids.

200 Districts Holding Millage Votes Today

LANSING (AP) — The critical question of financing Michigan schools was before voters today as some 200 districts held operating millage elections.

Outcome of the votes could have some bearing on whether or not schools will open on time this fall. Administrators have said they need more money to operate the schools and to meet teacher group demands for higher salaries and increased benefits.

In some districts, severe cutbacks in services were threatened if voters failed to approve additional levies.

Other districts sought voter approval on millage requests already defeated once or twice.

In East Detroit, for instance, voters defeated an 8.5-mill levy in March and were voting today on a 9.75-mill levy to help finance the education of some 12,900 pupils.

Kalamazoo School District voters turned down a 3.5-mill levy in April. Administrators called for a second vote, this time on 2.5 mills. That district serves 19,622 youngsters.

Wayland residents overwhelmingly defeated a requested 14-mill levy first in January and again in April. Officials were trying again — this time seeking 6.8 mills.

Michigan Education Association statistics showed 186 millage elections from Jan. 1 through today. Only 102 had passed.

Lutheran Church Growth Is Slowed

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The American Lutheran Church announced that its membership increased by 9,704 during 1967 to 2,576,027.

"The reduced rate of growth continued a trend which has prevailed for several years," said Arnold Mickelson, church secretary.

More than 50,000 persons were dropped from the church during the year because of inactivity, he said. The declining birth rate also slowed the growth of the church's baptized membership, according to Mickelson.

Youths Steal Spanish Coins

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Thieves took $70,900 worth of rare coins Sunday from a tourist replica of a Spanish galleon, police reported.

The owners of Treasure Ship Inc. said the bandits "left a trail of gold and silver" as they fled. Most of the coins were from sunken ships in Florida's coastal waters.

Some $28,000 of the loot was recovered. A policeman discovered a royal gold doubloon valued at $25,000 where the bandits discarded gloves and a pile of other coins.

A guard aboard the docked vessel, William Frank Stephan-lak, 62, told police three youths accosted him on deck. He said they pulled a .38-caliber pistol, bound his wrists with tape and forced him into his bunk below.

Funeral Today For Fire Victims

NOTTAWA (AP) — Funeral services were held today for a father and his four children who died Saturday when fire swept their two-story home in Nottawa.

State Police Sgt. Robert Ruohonen said that the house was destroyed and it was nearly impossible to determine where the fire began.

"It had too good a start," Ruohonen said, "all that's left is ashes and the foundation."

Victims were David Troyer, 34, a machine operator for Olsen Body Inc. in Sargis; and his children, David, 9; Roger, 8; Debra Sue, 7; and Betsy, 6. Mrs. Troyer escaped with minor burns.

New Bell Rates Get PSC OK

LANSING (AP) — The State Public Service Commission has authorized Michigan Bell Telephone Co., to introduce a variety of new, optional services, increase some service charges, reduce rates and establish rates for listings that require special handling.

Most of the new rates and services will be effective July 1. The commission said they will offer most customers either some savings or a wider calling range at lower prices.

One of the rate reductions applies to certain calls dialed from coin telephones within the Detroit, Pontiac and Grand Rapids districts. Interzone calls now costing 15 cents will be reduced to 10 cents.

Among the new services is a statewide "nickle-a-minute" service.

This will allow all residence and business customers to direct dial long distance calls anywhere within the state for five cents a minute after 10 p.m.

To qualify for the rate, customers must pay a basic charge of $2 a month.

Under this service system, as an example, a Detroit subscriber could call Marquette or any other place in Michigan and talk one minute for a nickel, two minutes for a dime and 10 minutes for 50 cents.

Farm Crop Price Rises Over 1967

LANSING (AP) — The index of prices received by Michigan farmers as of mid-May was 273 per cent of the 1910-14 average, unchanged from the previous month. The State Crop Reporting Service said the index was up four points from the same month last year, mainly because of higher prices for dry beans and milk.

Vote Set For 2 Amendments

LANSING (AP) — Two constitutional amendments and a $100 million bonding question will be placed before Michigan's voters this year because of legislative action.

Sent to Gov. George Romney for his approval is a proposal to issue up to $100 million worth of state bonds to finance acquisition and construction of recreational facilities. Voter approval in November is needed for the measure to take effect.

The Legislature earlier agreed to put on the November ballot the question of issuing $335 million in bonds to finance the state and local shares of a long term war on water pollution.

On the Aug. 6 primary ballot, meanwhile, will be proposals to amend the state constitution to provide:

—Power for the governor to fill judicial vacancies, with appointees remaining on the bench only until the next general election. Currently, vacant judgeships are filled in special elections or by retired judges designated by the state supreme court.

—Creation of a State Judicial Tenure Commission which could recommend discipline, ranging from censure to removal from office, against judges for specified causes.

Western Budget Is $25.5 Million

Deer Advisors For Doe Killing Curbs

The Citizens Advisory Committee on Deer for Conservation District 3 (Marquette, Delta and west Alger) ended its three-year work with an all-day session in Escanada Saturday that showed it not much changed by its exposures, but in majority support of recommendations for this year's antlerless deer hunting.

The Conservation Department recommends reduction in the shooting of antlerless deer in District 3 because the herd is down.

Charles Sitten, of Pontiac, employed by the Pontiac Press, chairman of the committee, and Joseph Vogt, game biologist in the district for the Conservation Department, will go to Lansing Thursday to make the district report on the committee's recommendations to the State Conservation Commission, which is studying field conditions before making hunting rules.

Devoted Service
An observer said of the committee's deliberations on deer management in the three county area, that it is easier to convert a person to Buddhism than to convert a hunter to killing antlerless deer. Lessons in biology simply do not convince some persons that bringing the deer herd and the feed on the deer range into balance is the way to have most deer. It makes logic to some persons that if does are spared in hunting they will enlarge the herd. The biologists say that feed is as important a factor as hunting in deer plenty.

Sitten's committee started with 25 members and there were 18 attending Saturday's meeting, a remarkable record of devotion that has prevailed for three years of unpaid service, with members coming from even southern Lower Peninsula cities and paying their own expenses to counsel the state on deer management.

Two Way Usefulness
The Conservation Commission set up the advisory committee to get their counsel and also to use them to broaden public understanding of deer management.

Besides the department's recommendations on antlerless deer killing the committee considered a proposal that the deer hunt license fee be increased $1 and that the money be used for deer range improvement. The recommendation carried 8 to 6.

After discussion a secret ballot showed the committee standing this way on the Conservation Department recommendations:

1. Approval, 15.
2. For changes in quotas, up or down, 3 for.
3. For recommending elimination of antlerless deer showing in any management area in the district, with the committee to decide which areas by majority vote, 3 for. (There was favor among the Alger County committee for its elimination.)

Reduces Quotas
4. Recommending the elimination of all antlerless deer shooting, 3 for.

Proposed 1968 antlerless harvest is down 20 per cent from the 1967 recommendations in recognition of the low current level of the herd resulting from the severe winter of 1966-67. "The recent open winter has allowed a limited recovery of the herd, but we feel the antlerless harvest this year should be quite conservative," said Vogt. "We are proposing the same boundaries for the special hunt. We have five different units, all with different quotas."

Unit No. 8, Marquette management area, 1,256 square miles, recommended 0.5 deer harvest per square mile. Total deer kill, 625.

Unit No. 4, Iron Range management area, southwest corner of Marquette County, 120 square miles in District 3, recommended kill, 1.25 deer per square mile or 150 animals.

Unit No. 5, Gwin area, 980 square miles, recommended kill, 1.7 deer per square mile, or 1,665 deer.

Unit No. 6, Menominee management area, 92 square miles in southern tip of Delta County (merging into District 2) south of U.S. 2, recommended kill, 1.25 deer per square mile, or 115 deer.

Unit No. 7, Hiawatha management area, eastern Delta County including Stonington and Garden Peninsulas, 1,128 square miles, recommended kill one deer per square mile; total 1,125 deer.

Total for district, 3,556 square miles, antlerless quota per square mile 1.3, and proposed kill, 3,000 deer.

Committeemen who attended were: Osmo Aalto, Rock; Victor Fleser, Moline, Mich.; Archie Freeman, Escanada; H. R. Heathman, Marquette; William Hemmilla, Gwin; R. W. Jenner, Marquette; Roland Juchanich, Negaunee; Nicholas LaFleur, St. Clair Shores; Willard Leppanen, Eben Junction; Graham McNamee, Escanada; Dr. Alfred Niemi, Marquette; Roy G. Olson, Escanada; Raymond Ranta, Munising; Willard Rudness, Marquette; Arthur Schaefer, Escanada; Donald Seymour, Escanada; Charles Sitten, Pontiac, chairman.

60,000 Visit Grave Of Kennedy On Sunday

the man accused of assassinating Kennedy in a kitchen passageway of the Ambassador Hotel.

Many in the long procession of Sunday visitors left flowers on the low wall that kept them about 15 feet from the fresh grave. Some bowed their heads and made the sign of the cross.

Always there were people. The cemetery gates had closed at midnight after Kennedy's burial, but nearly 100 people stayed outside, to wait the eight hours until the morning's opening.

By then some 300 were waiting and they filed up the hill, their ranks swiftly swelled by arriving thousands.

No one could count the crowds that saw Kennedy to that resting place from the funeral conducted Saturday morning at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York.

Accused Slayer Of King Denied Bail By Court

city sanitation workers, 88 per cent of them Negro.

Four days after the slaying, Ray went to a Toronto rooming house and rented a $10-a-week room under the name of Paul Bridgman, said the landlady, Mrs. Adam Szpakowski.

Mrs. Szpakowski said she thought she recognized him from a newspaper sketch of the man wanted for King's slaying, but her husband told her she was wrong and they forgot it.

Later, she said, when she was cleaning Ray's room, she found a newspaper folded open to the sketch. She said her suspicions were not aroused because "he was such a gentleman. How was I to know he was a bandit?"

That same day, about two weeks after Ray came, a letter arrived addressed to Bridgman from the address of the provincial registrar's office, which issues birth certificates, Mrs. Szpakowski said. The man left that day and never returned, she said.

From the bleak 15-by-12-foot room with a television set, a "Home Sweet Home" design and a picture of Christ, Ray moved to a $8-a-week room under the name of Sneyd, said his landlady there, Mrs. Yee Loo.

The man "never spoke to anybody," she said. "He came about four weeks ago with only a suit on his back and a newspaper in his hand."

Get Canada Passports

Mrs. Szpakowski said Ray described himself as a real estate salesman. Mrs. Loo said he told her he was a hospital worker.

Deputy Chief B.J. Simmonds of the Metropolitan Toronto Police said Ray somehow was able to obtain enough information on a Paul Bridgman living in suburban Don Mills and Ramon George Sneyd, a Toronto constable, to apply for passports by mail in both their names.

"Our job now is to ascertain how Ray got that information," Simmonds said.

Canadian Foreign Minister Mitchell Sharp said Ray also was able to obtain a birth certificate, but he did not say under whose name. Ontario's deputy registrar, H.F.C. Humphries, said enough information for a birth certificate application could be obtained from birth notices and telephone directories.

Ray used the name Bridgman when he had passport photos made at Mabel Agnew's photographic studio April 11.

The real Bridgman, a consultant teacher with the Toronto board of education, said Sunday he was "shook up" when he found out about the alias. He said he had no idea why his name was used. Bridgman said police questioned him Friday but he had no idea what it was about until he heard the name mentioned Saturday in news accounts of Ray's arrest.

It was under the name Sneyd that Ray flew to London May 6 and then to Lisbon.

His identity was uncovered after Canadian authorities spent a month searching through 200,000 to 400,000 passport photos. The word was passed to the FBI and authorities in Europe.

A government spokesman said the FBI had requested a check of Canadian passport applications after receiving word that Ray had been in Montreal last year for Expo 67. The Canadian police found a photograph registered under the name of Sneyd but resembling Ray.

From Lisbon, Ray's trail becomes less clear. A member of the Canadian Embassy staff in Lisbon said a man by the name of Ramon George Sneyd had approached the embassy for a passport. He refused to elaborate. He said the FBI had a full report on the matter. Reports from Ottawa said the embassy issued him another passport under the name Sneyd May 16.

The London Daily Mail said Ray had received his passport in Canada April 25 under the name "Sneyd" and called at the Canadian Embassy in Lisbon May 16 to correct the spelling to Sneyd. This, it said, helped alert Canadian authorities that the passport was false.

Skin Specialist Shows How to Rinse Away Blackheads

Fast, Easy Treatment now available for home use!

By INA LEE

NEW YORK, N.Y. — A leading New York dermatologist has developed a simple medicated home treatment that rinses away blackheads and white heads in a matter of minutes. I saw it demonstrated recently on five women and two teenage boys.

The results were almost breath-taking. Blackheads really rinsed away. In fact, many could be seen on the cleansing tissues that finished each treatment.

But this wasn't all! In the case of two older women, I saw enlarged pores reduced, and rough, muddy complexions made cleaner, clearer and smoother looking. In the case of teen-agers, I saw acne pimples improve after one application. After seeing these results, I can well understand why so many beauticians are now acclaiming this doctor's treatment as one of the most important beauty discoveries.

Anyone Can Use It

The treatment starts with a thorough skin cleansing. A special laboratory-developed whipped cleansing cream is used that takes off not only surface dirt, but also softens and loosens pore-caked grime with its emollient action. It liquefies as soon as it is applied and literally floats the dirt right off your face.

After this is rinsed off, a delightful mint-scented cream is applied. Within 2 or 3 minutes an absorbing agent called Argilla dries and turns this specially medicated cream into a plastic-like masque. As it firms and hardens, its suction action draws on waste matter in the pores. In 8 or 10 minutes you simply rinse the masque away with lukewarm water which dissolves it immediately. When you wipe your face, you can see blackheads and other pore "filler" actually come off on your tissue. And your skin feels clean — really clean — and refreshed and smooth, like velvet!

Pore Sponging and Closing

The third step in the treatment is an exhilarating application of a unique antiseptic astringent — a facial "mint julep" that sponges and tightens emptied pores and leaves a protective invisible film that helps guard your skin against dust, dirt and bacteria for hours and hours.

Nothing Else Like It

Even after a single treatment, women who have been troubled by blackheads for years see a marked improvement. Many find it hard to believe their eyes. Some blackheads and whiteheads just rinse away. Others are softened and made ready to be drawn out by future treatments. Enlarged pores appear to be smaller. The skin looks smoother and firmer — feels fresher & more alive!

In short, after a single treatment taking only 15 minutes, you can expect to see results that normally you would not dare hope for even after many weeks... but don't expect everything at once. Damage done by years of neglect can't be undone in a day. Yet with 3 or 4 treatments a week, you can confidently look forward to startling complexion improvements within 30 days. Then one treatment a week — or every second week — will probably be all your skin will need to keep it clear, lovely & healthy looking.

The medically developed products used in this treatment are manufactured & quality-controlled by QUEEN HELENE. They are Queen Helene Whipped Cleansing Cream, Queen Helene Medicated Masque and Queen Helene Penetrating Astringent. The three items are sold as complete skin and beauty kit for $3.98. Quite a bargain when you think of what it will do for a person's good looks — and self-esteem!

TRY THE TISSUE TEST! First wash face thoroughly, then apply treatment: Masque off... Now you can see... tiny spots of black on your tissue that were once ugly blackheads and imbedded pore dirt.

1. First apply Queen Helene Whipped Cleansing Cream. This liquefies instantly on your skin and softens pore-caked dirt with its rapid emollient action. You rinse off all but a thin film which prepares your face for the masque.
2. Now smooth on the Queen Helene Medicated Masque. As the absorbing agent, Argilla, in this plastic-like cream makes it harden into a masque, its powerful drawing action gently pulls out blackheads and other pore impurities.
3. After about 8 or 10 minutes, rinse off the masque with lukewarm water. It dissolves in seconds. Then apply Queen Helene Mint Julep Astringent — a special penetrating antiseptic that helps close emptied pores, tones up complexion, and gives protection against dirt and bacteria for hours.

Farm Bureau To Meet June 22 At Camp Shaw

The Upper Peninsula District of the Michigan Farm Bureau will hold a "Victory Party" at Camp Shaw at Chatham, the Michigan State University Farm Extension Station in the U.P., from 10 a.m. Saturday, June 22.

All members of the Farm Bureau and representatives of the mass communications media have been invited to the party, along with state and federal legislators.

Congressman Phillip E. Ruppe (R-Houghton) has accepted an invitation and the following state legislators: Senator Thomas Schweigert (R-Petoskey), Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique), Rep. Robert Davis (R-St. Ignace), Rep. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee), Rep. Jack Gingras (D-Iron Mountain).

After 41 Years, Asks Marriage Be Annulled

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — After 41 years of marriage, Severino Concha went into court to have the union annulled.

He had been tricked into the marriage, Concha said, and after the ceremony he and his wife each went separate ways. The marriage took place Sept. 21, 1926.

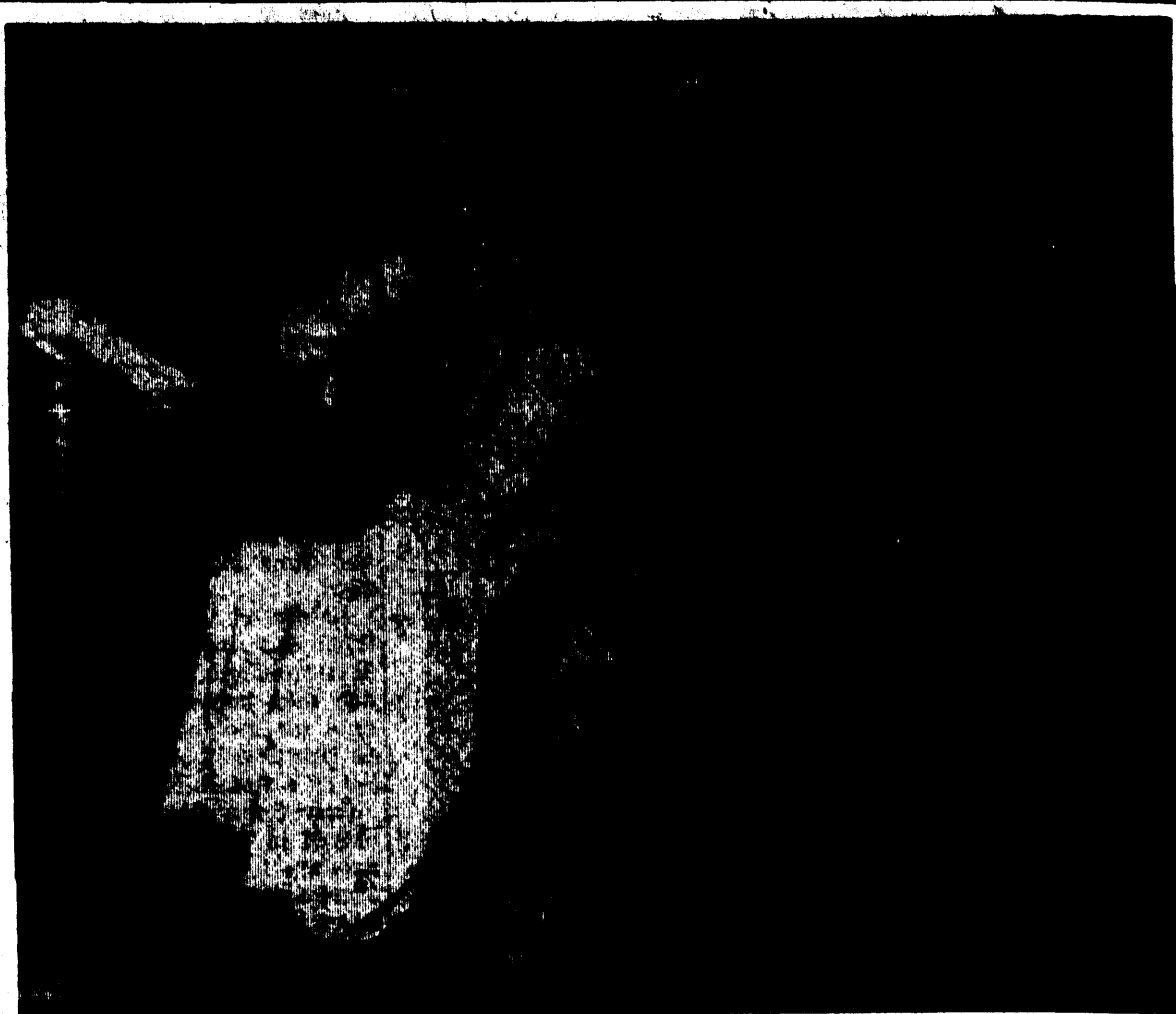

Asked by Judge William E. Ward why he had waited so long before acting, Concha said he had "somehow just never gotten around" to it.

The judge granted the annulment.

Speaking for the Michigan Farm Bureau in the day-long program will be Elton Smith, MFB president, of Grand Rapids; Dan Reed, secretary-manager; Melvin Woell, information services; Larry Ewing, field services, and Charles Burkett, membership, all of Lansing.

Heading Michigan State University's contingent will be George McIntyre, Lansing, director of agricultural extension; Rick Hartwig, agricultural economist; James Gooch, director of continuing education in the U.P. and Frank Molinare, director of Extension services in the U.P. all of Marquette.

A barbeque chicken dinner will be served at noon.

CAPACITY CROWDS fill St. Thomas the Apostle Church, Escanaba, every Sunday to participate in the "guitar" Mass led by Sister Vincent Denise, O. P., third grade teacher at St. Thomas School. Bob Anzalone, base guitar, left, and James Joque, rhythm, right, seniors at Holy Name High School and members of the "Riot Squad," a local professional "rock" group, complete the trio. Kathy Kolich, third from left, will replace Sister Vincent during the summer. Rev. Arnold Thompson, pastor of St. Thomas, encourages the new trend in religious music and welcomes the congregation's always-enthusiastic participation. (Daily Press Photo)

Young Woodchuck Rated Excellent Game Dinner

By LEE SMITH

If there is any wild meat to compare with young fox squirrel it is immature woodchuck. yet few members of the present generation ever ate woodchuck. The woodchuck has two color phases—red and grey.

Our grandma believed that only one color was edible; I forget which. Never could remember, in fact. So when we brought home summer woodchucks, dressed ready for the skillet, grandma would ask whether they were of the red or grey type and we would tell her what we knew would allay her anxiety. As I recall, she believed the wrong color was poisonous.

Open season on Michigan woodchuck are so arranged that few are legally killed. In the southern part of the Lower Peninsula the open season is Oct. 20 to Jan. 31. In the northern part of the state, the season is Oct. 1 to Jan. 31. Since woodchuck go to sleep underground early in November and sleep through until warm weather, they are fairly safe from human predation.

Pioneers trapped woodchuck to eat and because woodchuck hide is prime material for boot-laces, whiplashes, mitten facing.

Woodchuck are called "varmints" by rifle fanatics, who use scopes and high-power weapons to snipe at them, usually leaving their kills for the crows. One of the odd dispensations of nature is the dependence of the cottontail rabbit on the woodchuck. A cottontail cannot survive temperatures much below freezing unless it is hopping around. Without woodchuck dens for shelter, cottontails would be out of luck in Michigan.

Various other animals make use of woodchuck dens. With a little extra digging, a fox can rear its family in a woodchuck burrow, perhaps after eating the woodchuck. Or a woodchuck may move into a vacant badger den. Snakes find refuge from winter cold in the lower chambers of a woodchuck excavation.

It is somewhat hard to understand why Molly Cottontail rears her babies above ground, in a nest lined with her own hair, instead of in the cozy underground refuge where she hides from the hunter's hound.

Not only is the woodchuck good to eat, a boon to other forms of wildlife, he is also a beguiling pet. At Dick Watson's Pine Portage camp on Lake Kabinakagami in Ontario, a young woodchuck, brought in by one of the guides, made her home under a cottage. She enjoyed human companionship, popping out to receive tidbits. She eluded dogs and permitted children to play with her. When she wearied of being fondled, she squealed and struggled, but never attempted to bite, although she could have clipped off a finger.

A pet woodchuck, unlike a raccoon, remains amiable as it grows old. The time may come when animal dealers will rear woodchucks for the retail trade. For a city apartment dweller a friendly woodchuck would seem to be preferable to cat, dog, bird or tropical fish.

It should be understood, however, that the woodchuck is no mollycoddle. There is no more valiant fighter. A farm dog that succeeds in getting between a woodchuck and its den may, if dead game, slay the woodchuck, but the dog will bear the marks of battle to its grave.

MSU Graduation Heat Toll Heavy

EAST LANSING (AP)—Heat, estimated at more than 100 degrees, took a heavy toll at the Michigan State University graduation exercises Sunday.

Dr. James Feurig, head of the MSU hospital, said that because of the humidity and the heat bouncing off the concrete of the stadium was probably close to 100 degrees. The temperature in downtown Lansing was 93.

Feurig said two persons were hospitalized with heat prostration, 21 stretcher cases were treated and allowed to leave, and more than a dozen persons were revived with oxygen and cold packs.

Meanwhile, he said, East Lansing police were roaming the campus, picking up at least a dozen heat prostration cases.

Confrey Wins Highland Open

Disparitive Dave Confrey of the Portage Lake Golf and Country Club moved out to a one stroke lead on the 26th hole of the fifth annual Highland Open Golf Tournament and held on to edge the host club's Jerry Martin 106 to 107.

Martin fashioned a four birdie round on the second round to move into a two stroke lead after the 18-hole cut-off, but ran into trouble on the 20th hole with a double bogey five, and he and Confrey battled the rest of the match.

Confrey fired rounds of 37-34-35, after qualifying for the championship flight on Saturday with rounds of 35-41. Martin shot 35-34-38 in Sunday's matches after qualifying with 37-36. The other winners in the championship flight were Jerry Harris of the Highland who finished third with 36-37-36, and fourth place went to the Escanaba Country Club's Dave Andrews with 36-38-37.

Billy Smith, lanky belter from Sault Ste. Marie won the medalist honors in Saturday's rounds as he went out with a 34, but really turned on the steam on the second round with four birdies, finishing with a 31, the lowest score ever shot on the present nine holes.

Tiger Tales

DETROIT (AP) — Notes & Quotes:

Rod Carew, the Minnesota Twins hard-hitting second baseman, went on two weeks military reserve duty today and will miss the four-game series with the Tigers.

"That may be tough news for the Twins but it's great news for us," said Ray Oyler.

The Tigers played with only a 22-man roster Sunday. Al Kaline is on the disabled list, Ed Mathews is in Ford Hospital for treatment of a sore back and infielder Tom Matchick was on National Guard duty. Mathews will be lost for four or five days and Kaline should be back next week. Matchick will rejoin the team Tuesday.

Right-hander Earl Wilson, out for two weeks with a bruised heel, warmed up in the bullpen during Sunday's 2-0 loss to Cleveland.

"Earl will be available for bullpen work this week," said Manager Mayo Smith. "But I don't think we'll be able to put him back in the starting rotation until next week."

The Tigers have been in first place since May 10. They now stand 15 games over the .500 mark, leading the American League by 3½ games. A year ago, Detroit was in second place, one game out of first.

The Tigers have an off day today, their first in 17 days.

Cardinals, Reds Spray 53 Hits In 2-Game Split

By The Associated Press
Baseball's frustrated sluggers have been crying all spring for warm weather. They got it in Cincinnati Sunday—and let the pitchers have it.

The temperature was up around 100 degrees as the Reds and St. Louis Cardinals sprayed 53 hits around Crosley Field in splitting a doubleheader.

The Cards exploded for 10 runs with two out in the fifth inning of the opener to overcome an eight-run deficit and pound out a 10-8 victory. The Reds trailed 6-0 in the nightcap but pulled out a 7-6 triumph in 12 innings.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles edged Philadelphia 4-3, Atlanta beat the Chicago Cubs 4-0 but dropped the second game 6-5. San Francisco swept the New York Mets 5-4 and 4-1 and Pittsburgh defeated Houston 3-1.

It wasn't a day for pitchers in Cincinnati. The Cards and Reds trotted out 19 of them, including six who appeared in both games. Steve Carlton of St. Louis, who fell behind 8-0 in the opener but was taken off the hook, came back in the 10th inning of the nightcap and took the loss when Leo Cardenas doubled home Tony Perez from first base with two out in the last of the 12th.

Dal Maxvill was on second base with two out when the Cards erupted in the fifth inning of the first game. Julian Javier doubled him home, Curt Flood walked and Orlando Cepeda singled Javier across. Mike Shannon walked and Tim McCarver's two-run single knocked out starter Gerry Arrigo.

Reliever Bob Lee walked Roger Maris and Maxvill, up for the second time in the inning, singled in two more runs. Pinch hitter Johnny Edwards also singled to make it 8-7. Lou Brock greeted reliever Bill Kelso with a three-run homer to close out the scoring.

St. Louis jumped off to a 5-0 lead in the first inning of the second game and added one more in the fourth. Vada Pinson got that one back with a homer in the Reds' fourth and they closed in with a cluster of four in the sixth on Pinson's two-run single and Mack Jones' two-run homer Johnny Bench's sacrifice fly brought home the tying run in the eighth.

The second-place Dodgers stretched their winning streak to seven games by rallying for two runs in the last of the ninth to turn back the Phillies.

Paul Popovich opened the inning with his first major league home run off Woody Fryman, who was shooting for his sixth straight win. With one out Fryman walked Jeff Torborg. Len Gabrielson batted for winning pitcher Jim Brewer and blooped a single to center, sending pinch runner Jim Fairrey to third.

Grant Jackson replaced Fryman and center fielder Don Lock dropped Willie Davis' fly ball and Fairrey scored the winning run. Fairrey probably would have scored anyway after the catch.

Adolfo Phillips' scratch single with the bases loaded broke an eighth-inning tie and Chicago's five-game losing streak in the nightcap of their doubleheader with the Braves. The Cubs had tied the score in the fifth on Ron Santo's two-run single.

Atlanta won the opener as Joe Torre belted two homers and scored three runs and Ken Johnson and Claude Raymond scattered nine hits.

The Giants won their opener from the Mets on run-scoring singles with two out in the ninth by Willie McCovey and Willie Mays. The rally wiped out a 4-3 New York lead and prevented rookie Jerry Koosman from becoming the major leagues' second 10-game winner. The defeat, however, was charged to Cal Koonce.

Mays blasted his 11th homer in the fifth inning, putting him in fifth place on the all-time extra base hit list with 1,133. Mike McCormick scattered six hits in the second game as the Giants nicked Don Cardwell, 1-7, for all their runs in the first two innings.

Pittsburgh got 1-3 innings of five-hit pitching from rookie Bob Moose in beating Houston. By winning, the Pirates climbed out of last place and dumped the Astros in.

Moose was making only his second start and picked up his first victory of the season after four defeats. Ron Kline nailed the last two outs.

Rusty Staub and Bob Aspromonte of Houston and Pittsburgh's Maury Wills did not show up for the game. They had said they would stay away out of respect for the memory of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sims, Azcue Lead Indians By Tigers

By The Associated Press
Introducing ... Alvin Dark's two-catcher offense, a new wrinkle designed to battle the Great Hit Famine of 1968.

Dark used both Duke Sims and Jose Azcue, Cleveland's regular catchers, Sunday against the Detroit Tigers, stationing Azcue behind the plate and Sims in, of all places, left field.

Naturally, it paid off with Sims doubling and scoring on Azcue's single in the fifth inning and then homering in the seventh for the Indians' other run as Luis Tiant blanked the Tigers 2-0 on a four-hitter.

Only three other games were played in the American League Sunday. Washington pounded Minnesota 7-4 and New York swept a doubleheader from California 8-1 and 3-2. Chicago's game at Boston and Oakland's doubleheader at Baltimore were postponed out of respect to the memory of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"I decided on Sims in left field because of this ball park," said Dark, who last week employed another catcher, Ken Suarez, at both third base and second base against Chicago.

"I figure if Willie Horton can play left field here, Duke can," Dark continued. "I just told Sims to let (Jose) Cardenal catch all the balls he could reach."

Sims caught two flies and defended his outfielding.

"I can catch fly balls and any ball in my area I'm going to take," he said.

"Two catchers in the line-up," Sims reflected. "One drives in one run and the other drives in the other." Dark probably could have told him it would happen that way.

Washington erupted for seven hits and six runs with two out in the fourth inning and whipped the Twins. Pitcher Joe Coleman, who had only two hits all last year, matched that total Sunday and contributed a two-run double to the big rally.

Mike Epstein started the rally with a two-out single and Paul Casanova and Bernie Allen followed with singles. Coleman doubled and Fred Valentine and Ed Stroud singled. After Frank Howard walked, Ken McMullen singled for two more runs.

Harmon Killebrew had a two-run homer for the Twins.

Stan Bahnsen pitched the Yankees to their first game victory over the Angels and then Charlie Smith's pinch single drove in the winning run in the bottom of the ninth of the nightcap, completing the sweep.

Roy White drove in two runs with a pair of early singles and Jake Gibbs' two-run single keyed a five-run Yankee uprising in the sixth inning that wrapped up the opener. Bahnsen won his sixth, although he lost his shutout when the Angels bunched three singles with two out in the ninth.

Some shoddy Yankee fielding cost Steve Barber two runs in the nightcap and the game was tied 2-2 going into the bottom of the ninth. Errors by Bobby Cox and Tom Tresh had set up one run and a dropped throw at first base by Ruben Amaro on an attempted double play allowed the other to score.

But Bill Robinson opened the Yankee ninth with a single and moved up on Cox' sacrifice. Gibbs was intentionally walked and Smith delivered his fifth pinch hit in seven trips as Robinson scored.

Manistique Wins Waubung Opener

MANISTIQUE — Manistique made their 1968 Waubung League opener a successful one by defeating the Escanaba Cubs, 3-2, in a game played yesterday afternoon.

Cub pitcher John Way had 14 strikeouts in the contest, but the Manistique team pushed across two runs on a wild pitch, a passed ball and an error. Richard King, who had 13 strikeouts, and Gary Lambert pitched for Manistique.

Gary Sample and Lambert each had two hits for Manistique; and Way the Cub attack with three hits. Manistique scored three runs on five hits and the Cubs had two runs on five hits.

Escanaba meets Schaffer Thursday night at 6 at the Al Noss for a Waubung League game and Manistique drew the bye and has next week off.

Drysdale's Shutout Mark Broken By Phils Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles Dodgers pitcher Don Drysdale's shutout string finally came to an end, but it had no effect on his team's seven-game victory streak.

Despite a run batted in in the fifth inning Saturday by Philadelphia's Howie Bedell, writing this to the longest shutout in history in major league history the Dodgers went on to win 5-3.

And Sunday, the Phillies fell 4-3.

Before that, Drysdale had rewritten the record books by demolishing the cobweb-covered mark of 36 scoreless innings set by Walter "Big Train" Johnson in 1913 for the Washington Senators.

On Sunday, Dodger Manager

Walter Alton, who usually blows his top whenever one of his players refuses to follow his advice, found it difficult to be angry with Paul Popovich or Wags Parker.

Popovich, the second baseman and big league sophomore, was about to lead off for the Dodgers in the ninth inning when Alton called him aside.

"Don't try to hit it over the fence," Alton admonished.

Popovich stepped to the plate, took a smooth level swing and hooked a liner around the left field foul pole. It was his first home run in two seasons and propelled the dodgers to victory.

"That shows you what a dumb manager I am," Alton said, grinning, after the second-place Dodgers gained their 10th victory in their last 11 starts and moved within two games of National League leader St. Louis.

"I've been telling Popovich and (Wag) Parker to quit swinging for the fences and they're doing it—but they're the only ones we have who have hit home runs lately."

"It proves what I've thought all along — that our players would hit the ball hard more consistently and hit more home runs if they'd just try to meet the ball and quit swinging as hard."

Parker has hit three homers in the last eight games and is holding a hot hand.

Arsonists Sought At Hazel Park

HAZEL PARK (AP) — A search continues today for three men, who police said were seen near a 30-horse barn at Hazel Park Race Track last week before fire destroyed 13 thoroughbred horses and caused $100,000 in property damages.

One witness reportedly told police he saw one of the men throw a burning torch into the barn last Wednesday, causing the second large fire at the race track this spring.

On April 11, 12 racehorses and a lead pony were destroyed in a fire, in which Joe Raven, 19, of San Antonio, Tex., was charged with arson.

Eight Drivers Capture Stock Car Race Honors

A crowd of approximately 2,000, saw eight different drivers walk away with honors from the races Saturday night in Escanaba.

Jerry Richer captured the modified feature to go along with his second place finish in the second heat. Richer, last year's number one driver, is also the leading point getter this year. In the feature, a spinout

Babe Ruth

The Escanaba Babe Ruth League season opened Saturday, after a week's delay due to rain, with the UAW-CIO blanking Mead Paper, 5-0. Kiwanis defeating the Insurance Agents, 13-8 and the Teamsters dumping the Escanaba Banks, 8-4.

Doug Howard of UAW-CIO threw a two-hitter in the opener and had 18 strikeouts. Tom Kangas took the loss for Mead and struck out 12 batsmen.

The game was scoreless until the fourth inning due to a fine play by Tom Shaw, UAW-CIO second baseman, who made a perfect throw to the plate to kill the rally. Al Thorbjornsen's single in the fourth brought in the first run of the game.

Game tonight: Teamsters at Mead Paper.

Eastern Players On Tourney Team

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — In addition to Gary Bowen and Terry Adams of Eastern Michigan University, who have been named to the U.S.A. All-Tournament Baseball team, which concluded play Saturday by losing to Georgia Tech, 4-3, in the final game.

Major Leagues Pledge Tickets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major league baseball clubs will give free tickets to more than four million youngsters this summer, the President's Council on Youth Opportunity said Sunday.

The New York Yankees, Los Angeles Dodgers and Cleveland Indians have pledged 400,000 free tickets each. All 20 major league teams are participating.

Yankees President Mike Burke said, "Giving these kids three hours of entertainment at a ball game is one small way we can help relieve the problems that exist."

"Beyond even that," Burke said, "it shows them that someone cares."

The four million free tickets represent an increase of about a million over last year's total.

The youth opportunity council is headed by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

With the take charge guy, Jim Nevala at the controls, Rotary erased any thoughts the Lions may have entertained for having a place of first place for the first half of the 1968 Little League season.

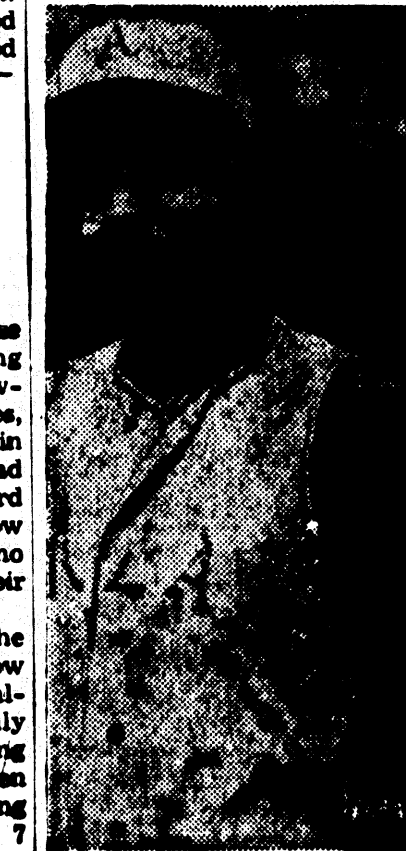

Nevala was never sharper as he and teammate Al Schwalbach teamed up to throw the third no hitter of the season when Rotary beat Lions 3 to 0 Saturday.

become the only Lions base runner. Meanwhile, Young held the vaunted Rotary power to two Texas League singles, but they came with men in scoring position as Young had control problems in the third and fourth inning. Rotary now has a string of 13 no hit no run innings going for their pitching staff.

Jim Moberg, author of the season's other no hitter, threw a one hitter at the Eagles, although Steve Thorin actually had the better of a pitching duel until the fifth inning when a seven run Kiwanis scoring binge salted the game away 7 to 1.

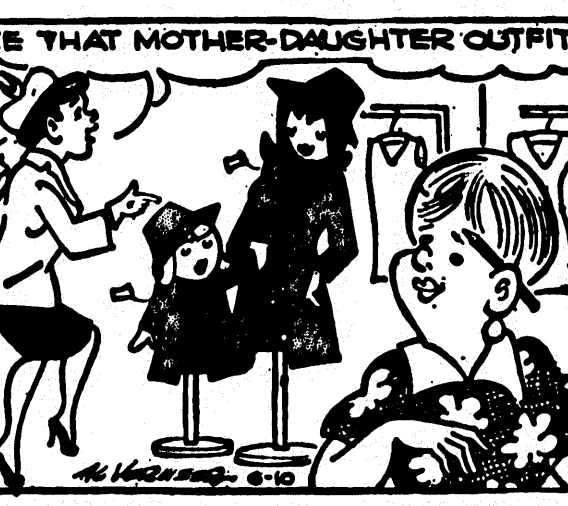

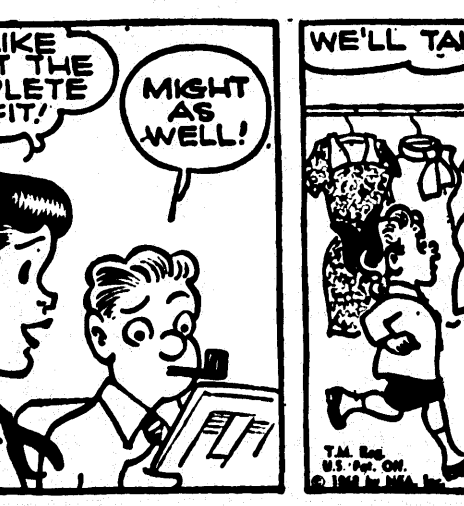

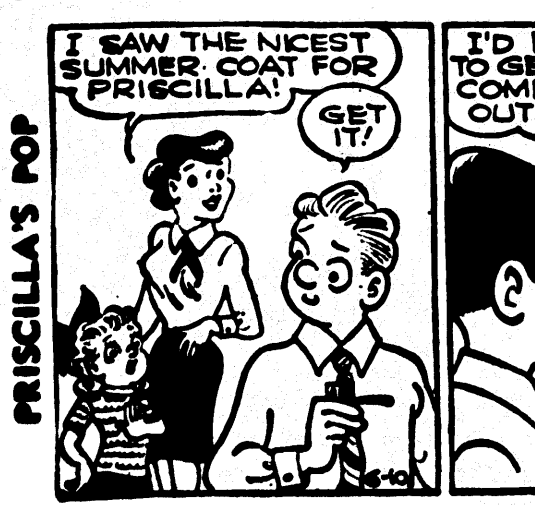

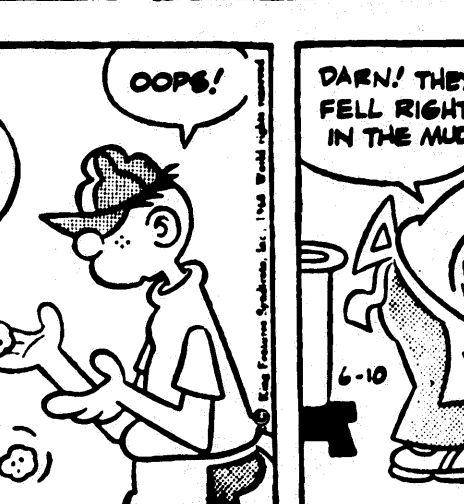

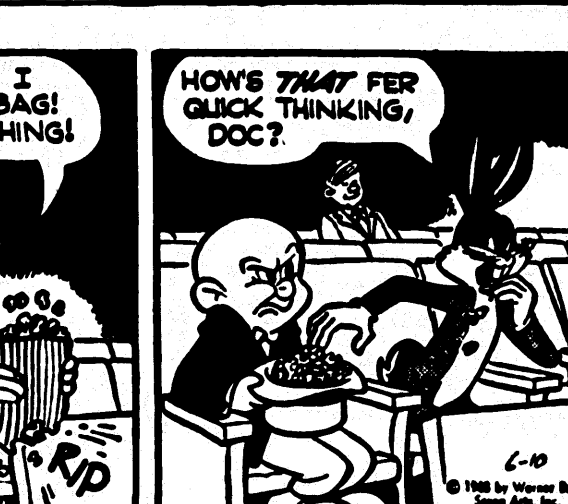

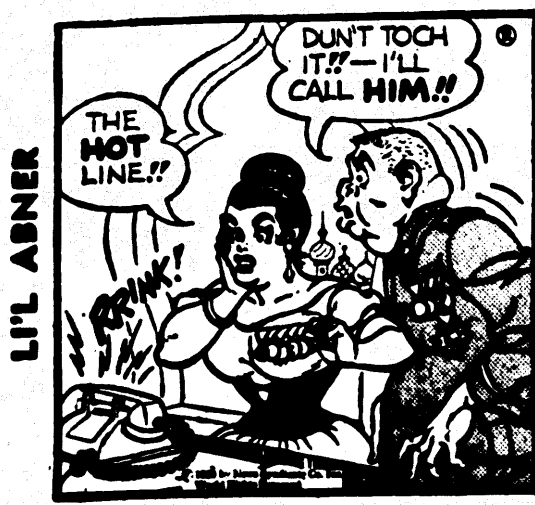

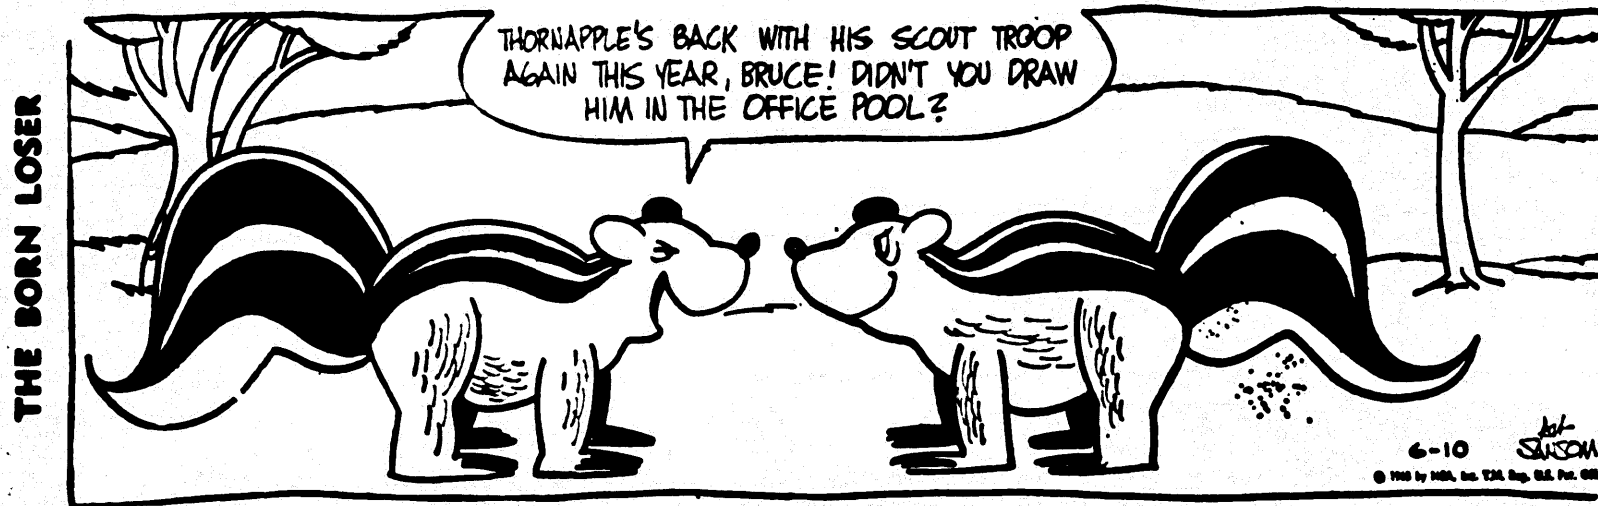

VFW got another nifty pitching performance when Jim Eis shut out Credit Union 4 to 0 to score their second win of the season. Bankers won a slugging tilt from Exchange 14 to 8 to complete Saturday's play.

Detroit Papers Plan Pay Offer

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiations were scheduled to resume today in the 207-day-old Detroit newspaper strike after a week-end away from the bargaining table.

Labor mediator Dr. Nathan Feinsinger was expected back in the city Sunday night after a brief vacation amid hopes that an end to the long shut-down may not be far off. Before leaving for the weekend, Feinsinger said a settlement could come tonight or Tuesday "if all goes well."

Authoritative sources indicate that the publishers of the Detroit Free Press and the Detroit News intend to offer a single economic package to all the unions remaining without contracts. Of the 14 newspaper unions, only the Teamsters have ratified a new contract.

The Teamsters, who precipitated the strike Nov. 15, received a $30 a week wage increase spread over three years. The increase begins to take effect with the resumption of publication.

GLADSTONE

Gladstone Sailor Rides His Unicycle In Saigon

SAIGON — Of all the strange ways people get around in this Asian capital, the strangest belongs to James J. Chouinard, Rte. 1, Gladstone. He used a unicycle.

Chouinard, an illustrator-draftsman first class, took his last ride on the unicycle last week before leaving Vietnam for leave in Gladstone.

Chouinard has wended his way through the city's monumental traffic jams for about a year, and turned a lot of heads in the process.

Chouinard, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Chouinard Sr., operate the Chouinard Greenhouse, has been in Vietnam since April, 1966.

He described how he got into unicycling: "I've always wanted to learn how to ride one of the things, so a year ago I drew up a set of plans. I took them down to a little bicycle shop. The guy down there didn't believe it at first, but he finally built it for 2,000 piasters (about $18)."

Then he had to learn how to ride it.

"I took it out on the street and just practiced. I didn't get hurt at all, but every day when I practiced there was an accident on that street."

How does it rate as transportation?

"It's cheap, but it's slow," Chouinard said.

Unusual transportation is a hobby of Chouinard's. He also holds a private pilot's license which he plans to convert to a commercial permit with GI Bill funds when he gets out of the Navy.

Chouinard left Saigon for home June 5, leaving his unicycle behind. It got a flat tire the last day.

But Chouinard, who is one of 13 children, says his unicycling career is not over. "My brother Tom bought one."

As an illustrator-draftsman for the Commander, U.S. Naval Forces, Vietnam, Chouinard worked mostly on graphics for command briefings. He has orders now to the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington.

STEEL IS GOING UP at the Escanaba Paper Co. on its $58.6 million expansion program. This picture shows current appearance of the mill site with Rust Engineering Co. (a division of Litton Industries) in charge of construction. The first phase of the mill expansion will add a third paper machine with 100,000 tons of capacity to the plant's present capacity of 85,000 tons. The expansion plan's second phase calls for construction of a pulp mill. The present mill uses groundwood pulp of its own making and imported pulps. Other items in the current expansion program are pulping and finishing equipment, facilities for warehousing, finishing, wrapping and shipping, expansion of the power plant with a 600,000 pound per hour steam boiler and 25,000 kw turbine, a new mill water supply and effluent treatment facilities, new offices and a quality control laboratory. Ashland Rises As Coal Port

ASHLAND, Wis. (AP)—This once important iron ore docking site for bulk freighters on the Great Lakes is finding a second life as a coal staging area for Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

A White Pine Copper Co. official has indicated the big Ontonagon County copper firm plans to unload more than 200,000 tons of coal from 25 vessels this year at Ashland.

The coal would be moved to the White Pine smelters by the Soo Line railroad in mixed trains.

Transport from lower lakes ports to Ashland is to be made by the Reiss Steamship Co. of Sheboygan, Wis.

Previous White Pine coal shipments were unloaded at Dollar Bay in Houghton County, but reduced freight costs from Ashland have brought the change.

Contract Boats For Alewife Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interior Department announced the issuance of contracts totaling $226,840 for 12 fishing boats to skim dead alewives off Lake Michigan.

The boats are to operate off shores of Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin, but not—for the time being—off Michigan, which has not yet provided the required state matching funds.

A spokesman for the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration said the other three states have committed themselves for up to $62,500 each, as required under the program.

The contracts were originally scheduled to be issued June but were delayed until the states came up with their share of the money.

Gas Co. Drops Advance Charge

LANSING (AP)—Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. is dropping its $21 advance minimum charge for seasonal gas service, reports the State Public Service Commission.

The deposit had been required to assure the company of enough revenue to cover annual fixed costs. The company now has told the commission this no longer is necessary.

The utility said it is not practical to use computer procedures for seasonal customer accounts because the special handling of the accounts is too expensive.

Suds Cannon Is New Riot Curb

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A National Guard officer believes he has devised a harmless method for cleaning up riots with soap and water.

Lt. John Graf, 24, of the 101st Cavalry's C Troop, tried out his idea Sunday with men of his command and it proved to be a bellowing success.

"You're totally disoriented and you feel weightless," Graf said as his men floundered in the foam during test at a training reservation near suburban Meadowbrook.

Graf of Trevose, Pa., worked out plans for his bubble gun with his employers, the Pennsylvania Box and Lumber Corp. and the Walter G. Kidde Co. of Bellevue, N.J.

After two weeks of work and an outlay of $18,000, they devised the foam cannon. Mounted on an armed personnel carrier the gun shoots under pressure a stream of liquid soap and water that forms suds.

Catholic Council Asks Gun Control

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Catholic Conference has called for passage of meaningful federal and state gun control laws.

"Any nation that allows its leaders to be assassinated and its cities to become armed camps is in deep trouble," said Conference Director Francis H. Coomes.

"Legislation in Congress has been pending for nearly five years that would control the sale and registration of guns," Coomes said. "It is imperative that this legislation be passed before further violence sweeps this nation into despair and chaos."

The conference sent telegrams to President Johnson and leaders of the Michigan congressional delegation pleading for passage of an adequate gun control bill. A similar appeal has been made to Gov. George Romney and the Michigan Legislature.
